The Virginia League of Conservation Voters

2000
Virginia General Assembly
Conservation Scorecard

The Virginia League of Conservation Voters is a non-profit 501 (C) (4) organization. We depend on member contributions and use part of these contributions to help elect friends of conservation to state and local office. Funds for political purposes are directed to the VALCV Political Action Committee.

Gifts to the Virginia League of Conservation Voters or its political action committee are not tax deductible.

OUR PURPOSE

The mission of the Virginia League of Conservation Voters (VALCV) is to preserve and enhance the quality of life of all Virginians by making conservation a top priority with Virginia's elected officials, political candidates, and voters.

Seventy-five percent of the American people consider themselves "environmentalists," and twenty-three percent say they have voted for or against a candidate based on environmental issues. VALCV believes, therefore, that environmentally concerned citizens represent a huge potential force in electoral politics.

Candidates for elected office often are not asked to articulate their positions on local conservation issues by the public or by the media. Yet conservation concerns such as a sprawl, the quality of our drinking water, the disposal of our waste, and the sanctity of our remaining open spaces are issues that are important to our voters.

VALCV is a non-partisan political action arm of the Virginia's conservation community. It takes its franchise from the local, regional, and state conservation groups that define the issues and priorities. because most of these groups are 601 (c) (3) status and, therefore, cannot engage in electoral politics, we undertake that effort on their behalf.

We invite you to join our efforts to become the strongest possible political force for conservation in Virginia.

A Proud Tradition Worth Preserving

We Virginians cherish our heritage. We also love our land. We all want clean air, clean water, preservation of our heritage, and protection of our farmland and forests.

Too often, however, our government has allowed our history to be paved over, our air and waters to become polluted, and our productive land to be wasted in poorly planned development projects.

Virginia deserves elected officials who are responsive to the people. We must urge them to accept that challenge to protect Virginia's natural resources, our abundant wildlife, and our irreplaceable historic sites if they care about the kind of Virginia we leave to our children.

Know the Score

Congratulations! By picking up this Scorecard, you've taken the first step toward protecting Virginia's environment. Knowing how your legislators vote on key bills is the first step toward holding them accountable and making conservation a top priority.

This is the first conservation Scorecard compiled by the newly formed Virginia League of Conservation Voters. ValCV would like to acknowledge the other conservation organizations who worked so diligently in previous years to publish scorecards. Gratitude is owed to the Sierra Club-Virginia Chapter and Clean Water Action. We also thank the staff and participating organizations of the Virginia Conservation Network for their invaluable guidance on the 2000 legislative issues.

It's Not Too Late to Say Thanks or No Thanks!

How did your legislators do? While the 2000 session is long over, the 2001 session is gearing up and will have many more conservation bills for your legislators to consider. Using the legislative maps and directory listed at the back of the Scorecard, contact your delegate and senator. Special appreciation is due for the seventeen "Heroes" but others deserve recognition as well. They will be much more likely to respond favorably to our requests if we take a moment to let them know that we value their past efforts—especially on the tough issues.

If your legislators appeared on the "Zeroes" list, they especially need to hear from you! They need to know we are watching their actions and that we deeply care about conservation issues. You may even find that providing additional information on various topics may make the difference in their votes next time!

Keep an eye on the VaLCV website www.valc.org which will be activated soon as well as the VCN site www.vcnva.org to stay abreast of the Virginia legislative 2001 General Assembly action. The bill tracking site is <http://leg1.state.va.us/>

How The Scorecard Votes Were Chosen

Experts from Virginia's conservation organizations made recommendations to VaLCV on what votes should be included. It was a tough session to summarize because many bills during the 2000 General Assembly session were tabled in committee or carried over until the 2001 session to allow for more public input.

No recorded votes are made available for budget amendments. The votes selected for the VaLCV scorecard are the votes with narrow margins. Most of the environmental emphasis in the 2000 session was on the landmark wetlands bills.

No matter how hard we try to make our Scorecard reflective of a legislator's performance, voting scorecards have limitations. It is difficult to record less tangible elements of lawmaking such as when a vote was difficult for a legislator to make due to political party affiliation or whether a legislator actively "worked" a bill by helping to build support for its passage. With carefully chosen votes, a scorecard can give a picture of overall performance.

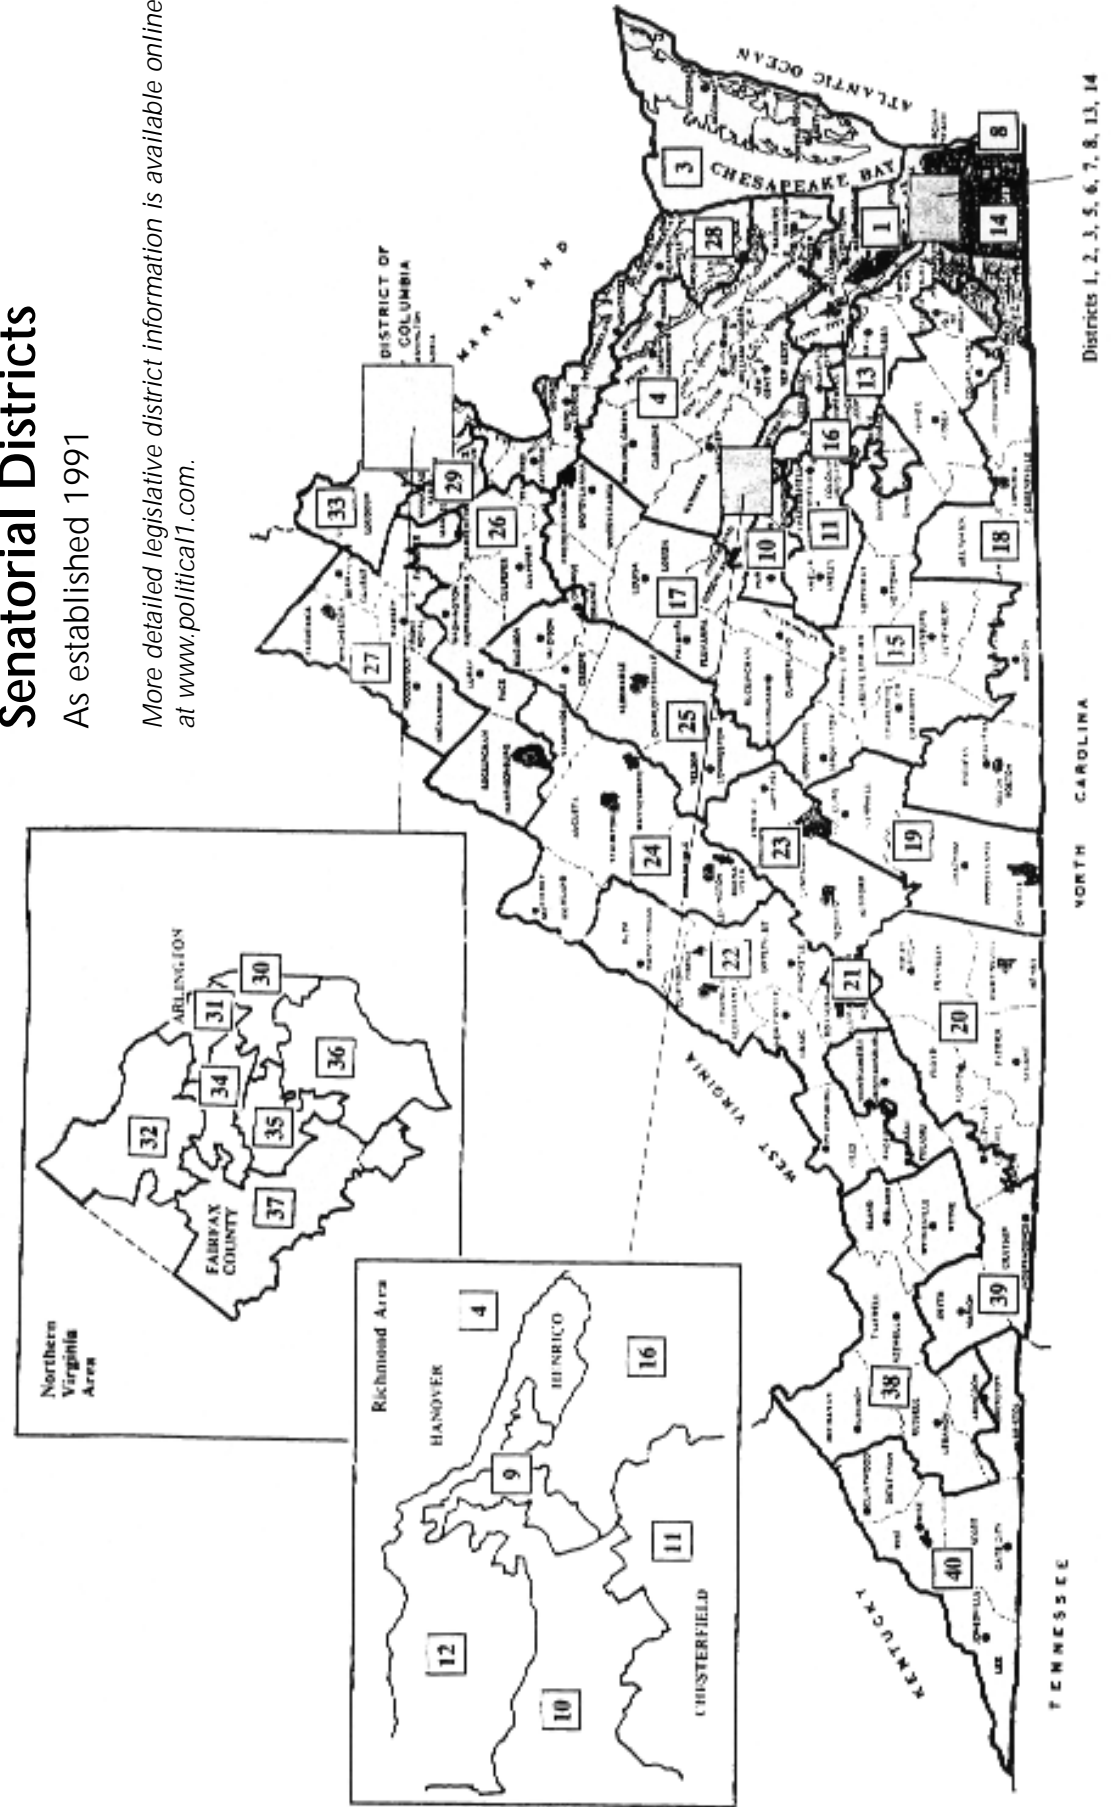

Overview of the 2000 Session

The nontidal wetlands bills dominated the environmental discussion during the session. Due to the erosion of federal authority to stem wetlands losses from Tulloch ditching, Republicans and Democrats from both the House and Senate stepped forward to patron nontidal wetlands legislation. Despite efforts by the Homebuilder's Association of Virginia to have legislation introduced to diminish protections, the conservation community pulled together to keep the focus squarely on the original bills and not allow for a change in the definition of wetlands. Passage of this legislation was truly a victory for all of Virginia's environmental advocates!

2000 General Assembly Vote Key

HOUSE BILL 1170 — Wetlands Patron — Preston Bryant

Requires that those proposing to impact nontidal wetlands (example: filling or Tulloch ditching) first obtain a Virginia Water Protection Permit from the State Water Control Board. The House floor vote that is tabulated was Delegate Frank Wagner's attempt to limit the wetlands bill to only regulate Tulloch ditching and exempt other potentially damaging impact on nontidal wetlands. The amendment failed (47-Y, 49-N, 2 AB) and the bill was adopted with other minor amendments in the House. The bill sailed through on the Senate side and as signed into law. This is certainly a comprehensive nontidal wetlands bill. A vote against the Wagner amendment is a "right" vote.

HOUSE BILL 1223 — Outdoor Advertising Patron — Donald McEachin

Prohibits the elimination of outdoor advertising structures (billboards) along any highway in the Commonwealth by amortization without just compensation. Passes in the House (86-Y, 13-N) and went on to pass in the Senate along with duplicate SB 522. A vote against the bill was a "right" vote.

SENATE BILL 522 — Outdoor Advertising Patron — Randy Forbes

(identical to HB 1223 listed above)

SENATE BILL 648 — Wetlands Patron — Mary Margaret Whipple

Comparable to Bryant House bill; The Senate vote shown in the chart is the floor vote on Senator Forbes' amendment which postponed enactment of all provisions covering wetlands impact except those covering Tulloch ditching or excavation for one year until July, 2001. (23-Y, 15-N, 1-AB) A vote against Senator Forbes' amendment is a "right" vote. After many versions of this bill were presented and debated, Senator Whipple's bill ultimately was reported out and signed into law. In the House, the vote recorded was for the original Whipple language. A House vote for the original version of the bill was a "right" vote.

SENATE BILL 695 — Certificates for alterations of state waters Patron — Ken Stolle

Certificate for alterations of state water; Senator Stolle proposed this bill as Tulloch-fix only which would have narrowed the scope of Senator's Whipple's comprehensive wetlands bill. While SB 695 passed in the Senate (28-Y, 10-N, 1 AB), it was defeated in the House Committee on Chesapeake and Its Tributaries. (8-Y, 9-N) Whipple's bill, SB 648, then passed the House of Delegates (86-10-1). A vote against this bill was a "right" vote.

SENATE BILL 758 — Lease on publicly owned land for communications purposes Patron — Marty Williams

Lease of publicly owned land for communications purposes; provides detailed criteria for the lease of land by VDOT to communications companies for construction and operations of cell towers. The bill passed on the Senate floor. (19-Y, 18-N, 2-AB) Due to constituent pressure, Senator Williams eventually requested that SB 758 be removed from the House Transportation committee docket. A vote against this bill on the Senate floor was a "right" vote. The bill was an attempt to bypass the Supreme Court ruling.
